Is PE valued in your school? Does your current delivery meet the needs of every student? Does your curriculum nurture physical literacy? If the answer to any of the above questions is no, then it's time to book onto our brand-new CPD event, led by author of Is Physical Education in Crisis?: Leading a Much-Needed Change in Physical Education, Lee Sullivan.

Discover what a Concept Curriculum is and how to implement it in your PE department in order to ensure your lessons are more impactful, engaging and reinvigorate students' enjoyment. Offering a fantastic opportunity for professional development and coaching, this course consists of a full-day workshop followed by a follow-up check-in webinar so you have plenty of first-hand classroom experiences to feedback on.

Attend this event and receive a free copy of one of Hodder Education's best-selling Student Textbooks - worth £25.

ABOUT YOUR TRAINER:

Lee Sullivan has over 12 years PE teaching experience and is a current Head of PE. Preparing students for life through physical education is Lee's 'why' and this value was the motivation for creating the concept-driven curriculum and writing the thought provoking book 'Is PE in Crisis? Leading Meaningful Change in Physical Education'. Lee is an advocate of creating relevant and meaningful PE experiences for all students through concept-driven and personalised curriculum, holistic assessment and inclusive pedagogy. Lee presents to trainee teachers at universities and often leads training and 1to1 support for PE departments leading change. Creating a positive PE environment that better nurtures physical literacy and develops positive attitudes towards physical activity is at the heart of all that Lee does.
